Definition of Weighted Average Maturity (1) & (2)

(1) This weighted average maturity calculation uses the SEC Rule 2a-7 definition for stated maturity for any floating rate instrument held in the portfolio to determine the weighted average maturity for the pool. This Rule specifies that a variable rate instruction to be paid in 397 calendar days or less shall be deemed to have a maturity equal to the period remaining until the next readjustment of the interest rate. (2) This weighted average maturity calculation uses the final maturity of any floating rate instruments held in the portfolio to calculate the weighted average maturity for the pool.

ECONOMIC COMMENTARY

Market review

While 2024 is only one month old, it has been a very busy handful of weeks. With geopolitical tensions on the boil, major moves in markets and a slew of upbeat economic data, January has been a wild ride. As a result, it is worth unpacking some of the things that have helped to define the first month of the new year. Economic indicators remained robust. December employment numbers handily beat expectations, showing job gains of 216,000 and an unemployment rate steady at 3.7%. Meanwhile, December inflation modestly reaccelerated, thanks to gains in energy prices, to 3.4% year-over-year (y/y); shelter inflation stayed quite sticky. 4Q 2023 GDP was also of note, considerably stronger than consensus and showing full year growth of 3.1%, significantly above the Federal Reserve's forecast. The economy expanded at an impressive 3.3% annualized rate in 4Q23, a deceleration from a very strong third quarter but well above consensus expectations of 2.0%. Many of the underlying details looked strong; but consumption, again, powered the economy in both goods and services. The biggest upside surprise was trade, a notoriously volatile component of GDP, which rose at a 6.3% annualized pace. The U.S. consumer continued to be supported by a strong labor market. The Job Openings and Layover Turnover Survey (JOLTS) in December showed the level of job openings rebounding to 9.026mm, from the revised 8.925mm in November, pointing to continued strength.

Labor market strength allowed the Fed to hone in on inflation, which showed further evidence of moderation in December. Headline CPI rose 0.3% month-over-month (m/m) and 3.4% y/y, while core inflation maintained its 0.3% m/m pace, easing slightly to 3.9% y/y. Shelter remained the largest contributor to inflation, rising 0.5% m/m, although real-time data on rents continue to suggest a slowdown ahead. Core services ex-shelter remained elevated, supported by airline fares, medical care services and a 20.3% y/y jump in auto insurance prices. Meanwhile, the Fed's preferred measure of inflation, the Personal Consumption Expenditures Price Index (PCE), rose 0.2% m/m on both the headline and core measures, bringing the year ago figures to 2.6% and 2.9% respectively. (continued page 4)

At its January meeting, the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) voted to leave the federal funds rate unchanged at a target range of 5.25%-5.50% for the fourth consecutive meeting. There were notable adjustments to the statement language, which suggested that the committee is now biased toward cutting interest rates, although it may not begin easing policy as soon as markets anticipate. In fact, Powell stated that recent data leads him to believe that a March cut is unlikely and "the committee does not expect it will be appropriate to reduce the target range" until inflation is sustainably moving to 2%. Powell also mentioned the committee will discuss balance sheet issues during the March meeting with a potential tapering of Quantitative Tightening soon after.

Rates moved higher due to stronger than expected economic data before ending the month modestly lower, while short Treasury bill yields were relatively unchanged to marginally higher. The three-month Treasury bill yield rose 2 bps on the month to 5.37%, while one-year T-bill and two-year Treasury yields fell 6 bps and 4 bps to 4.72% and 4.21%, respectively.

Outlook

January's employment report beat expectations, reflecting a very strong labor market that, despite full employment, continues to make progress on filling job openings and providing workers with solid real wage gains. At 353,000, nonfarm payrolls came in significantly above consensus estimates of 185,000, with the previous two months revised higher by 126,000. This materially changes the 3-month moving average from 165,000 as of December pre-revisions to 289,000, the highest level since March of 2023. The unemployment rate remained at 3.7%, which was a function of a stable labor force participation rate (62.5%) and a roughly flat household employment number (-31,000). Temporary workers increased slightly by 3.9k, the first rise since February 2023. Average hourly earnings came in much higher than expected at 0.60% m/m vs. 0.30% survey.

The strength of this report combined with Chair Powell's press conference after the January FOMC meeting suggests a March cut is unlikely now. Furthermore, the Fed is now predominately focused on services inflation, and these wages numbers should make them wary of cutting too soon and triggering a re-acceleration in growth before inflation is closer to their target. As a result, we see a May cut as only a 50/50 proposition and June as our base case. Only inflation falling below 2% or unemployment rising closer to 4%, would cause the Fed to cut sooner rather than later.
