

GENERAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS
OF THE
CENTRAL TEXAS REGIONAL MOBILITY AUTHORITY

RESOLUTION NO. 25-019

PROHIBITING THE OPERATION OF CERTAIN MOTOR VEHICLES ON MOBILITY AUTHORITY TOLL FACILITIES PURSUANT TO THE HABITUAL VIOLATOR PROGRAM

WHEREAS, Transportation Code, Chapter 372, Subchapter C, authorizes toll project entities, including the Central Texas Regional Mobility Authority (Mobility Authority), to exercise various remedies against certain motorists with unpaid toll violations; and

WHEREAS, Transportation Code §372.106 provides that a “habitual violator” is a registered owner of a vehicle who a toll project entity determines:

- (1) was issued at least two written notices of nonpayment that contained:
 - (A) in the aggregate, 100 or more events of nonpayment within a period of one year, not including events of nonpayment for which: (i) the registered owner has provided to the toll project entity information establishing that the vehicle was subject to a lease at the time of nonpayment, as provided by applicable toll project entity law; or (ii) a defense of theft at the time of the nonpayment has been established as provided by applicable toll project entity law; and
 - (B) a warning that the failure to pay the amounts specified in the notices may result in the toll project entity’s exercise of habitual violator remedies; and
- (2) has not paid in full the total amount due for tolls and administrative fees under those notices; and

WHEREAS, the Mobility Authority previously determined that the individuals listed in Exhibit A are habitual violators, and these determinations are now considered final in accordance with Transportation Code, Chapter 372, Subchapter C; and

WHEREAS, Transportation Code §372.109 provides that a final determination that a person is a habitual violator remains in effect until (1) the total amount due for the person’s tolls and administrative fees is paid; or (2) the toll project entity, in its sole discretion, determines that the amount has been otherwise addressed; and

WHEREAS, Transportation Code §372.110 provides that a toll project entity, by order of its governing body, may prohibit the operation of a motor vehicle on a toll project of the entity if:
(1) the registered owner of the vehicle has been finally determined to be a habitual violator; and

(2) the toll project entity has provided notice of the prohibition order to the registered owner; and

WHEREAS, the Executive Director recommends that the Board prohibit the operation of the motor vehicles listed in Exhibit A on the Mobility Authority's toll roads, including (1) 183A Toll; (2) 290 Toll; (3) 71 Toll; (4) MoPac Express Lanes; (5) 45SW Toll; and (6) 183 Toll.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the motor vehicles listed in Exhibit A are prohibited from operation on the Mobility Authority's toll roads, effective April 30, 2025; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Mobility Authority shall provide notice of this resolution to the individuals listed in Exhibit A, as required by Transportation Code §372.110; and

BE IT IS FURTHER RESOLVED that the prohibition shall remain in effect for the motor vehicles listed in Exhibit A until the respective habitual violator determinations are terminated, as provided by Transportation Code §372.110.

Adopted by the Board of Directors of the Central Texas Regional Mobility Authority on the 30th day of April 2025.

ECONOMIC COMMENTARY

Market review

In March, uncertainty was the prevailing theme in financial markets, which significantly influenced the U.S. economic outlook. While hard data indicated a moderation in growth towards a balanced expansion, supported by a robust labor market and a recovering global manufacturing sector, the recent escalation in U.S. tariff policies introduced new complexities. The upcoming April 2nd 'Liberation Day' announcement of reciprocal tariffs added to the uncertainty, raising questions about the sustainability of growth in the goods sector, which may be temporarily boosted by front-loading. As these rapidly changing policies unfold, sentiment indicators are becoming increasingly important, as they provide insights into the current economic climate that hard data may not yet reflect. Economic data in March presented a divergence between hard and soft data. On the hard data front, the economy appeared stable, with the third revision of the Q4 GDP showing a solid 2.4% annualized growth rate, and labor market figures indicating healthy job growth and full employment. The February Jobs report was decent, with nonfarm payrolls increasing by 151,000, bringing the 3-month moving average to a still healthy 200,000. Wage growth, after a previous acceleration, eased to 0.3% month-over-month (m/m), resulting in a 4.0% year-over-year increase (y/y). The household survey showed a slight uptick in the unemployment rate to 4.1%, despite a dip in labor force participation. The February CPI report came in slightly below expectations a 0.2% m/m increase in headline inflation, bringing the y/y to 2.8%. Core CPI rose by 0.2% m/m and 3.1% y/y, marking the slowest annual rise since 2021. Despite this moderation, details indicated declining consumer demand, with recreation commodities and airline fares dropping 0.7% and 4.0% m/m, respectively.

Meanwhile, headline Personal Consumption Expenditures (PCE) met expectations, while core PCE slightly exceeded them, rising 0.3% and 0.4% m/m, respectively, with increases from a year ago at 2.5% and 2.8%, respectively.

Nevertheless, the potential inflationary impact of tariffs remained a concern, with recent tariff increases on goods from China, Canada, and Mexico posing upside risks to inflation as they could lead to increased costs for imported goods. Furthermore, future tariff threats and implementations are still underway, with the retaliatory effects from affected countries remaining unpredictable, adding to the uncertainty. Survey-based insights revealed growing unease, with consumer confidence indices reaching their lowest levels in years and small business optimism declining. The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) acknowledged the heightened uncertainty by leaving the federal funds rate unchanged at 4.25%-4.50% at its March meeting. Moreover, the Committee removed the language that risks to its inflation and employment goals were “roughly in balance”, suggesting members may be more sensitive to slowing growth than inflationary pressures. Additionally, the Committee announced it will slow balance sheet runoff by reducing the monthly Treasury securities cap from $25bn to $5bn, while keeping the $35bn cap on agency mortgage-backed securities (MBS).

Amidst ongoing tariff concerns, the updated Summary of Economic Projections (SEP) reflected expectations for slower growth and higher inflation in the short term. However, the Federal Reserve (Fed) appeared to view the inflationary effects of tariffs as temporary, as evidenced by largely unchanged long-term inflation forecasts. The ‘dot plot’ projections remained unchanged, with two rate cuts anticipated for 2025, though the details showed that March’s projections suggest a bias towards fewer cuts compared to December’s outlook. Despite the potential inflationary risks, the Fed continued to lean towards rate cuts, emphasizing that the pace of these adjustments will be guided by incoming economic data in the context of elevated uncertainty. Throughout the month, the short end of the Treasury yield curve, particularly maturities of three months and under, remained stable. Specifically, three-month Treasury bill yields held steady at 4.30%. In contrast, yields in the mid-section of the short-term yield curve inched lower as the Fed maintained its bias to cut rates. Six-month Treasury bill yields decreased by 5 basis points (bps) to 4.23%, while one-year Treasury bill yields fell by 6 bps to 4.03%. The two-year Treasury yields saw a more pronounced decline, dropping by 10 bps to 3.89%.

Outlook

As we concluded the first quarter of 2025, the economic landscape was marked by significant uncertainty, largely driven by recent policy shifts under the Trump administration. While backward-looking data remained robust, the outlook is clouded by the complexities introduced by new tariff announcements.

In a significant development on April 2nd, President Trump issued an Executive Order declaring a “national emergency,” which included two major tariff announcements. The first is a 10% universal tariff on U.S. imports, aimed at raising revenue, set to take effect on April 5th. The second involves higher tariff rates on over 25 U.S. trading partners, based on their trade deficits with the U.S., effective April 9th. These “reciprocal” tariffs were much higher than anticipated, with additional tariffs of 34% on China, 20% on the European Union, 24% on Japan, 26% on India, and increased tariffs on Southeast Asian countries. Notably, Canada and Mexico were spared in this round, as separate USMCA discussions continue. These announcements add to existing tariffs, including 25% on non-USMCA compliant goods from Mexico and Canada, 20% on China, 25% on steel and aluminum, and 25% on imported autos and auto parts. On the back of these announcements, recession risks have increased amid slower growth and higher inflation than previously expected. The time required for individual countries to negotiate with the U.S. poses a risk that real income growth and real consumer spending could fall into negative territory. As these developments unfold, the economic outlook remains cautious, with the Fed poised to respond to the evolving conditions. While a recession was not the Fed’s base case, Powell admitted that recession risks have increased from their previously low levels at the start of the year. In addition, there is still more to understand about the upcoming fiscal budget and tax negotiations. Putting it all together, we expect the Fed to maintain an easing bias and communicate their readiness to lower rates when the opportunity arises. Their most recent SEP highlights the downside risk to the economy and the uncertainty ahead, suggesting a policy stance that favors lower rates. If growth weakens and unemployment rises, we suspect the Fed will cut more than we had originally expected (2 cuts).
